Author Guidelines

The Journal of Cape Verdean Studies: Diaspora and Cultural Perspectives publishes academic works in a wide array of fields dealing directly or indirectly with Cape Verdeans studies specifically or diaspora and cultural studies broadly. Once published in the journal of Cape Verdean Studies, works should not be published elsewhere for a period of six months.

Original academic works are submitted to a blind peer review process to two or three specialists in the field for evaluation. Authors will receive suggestions and feedbacks from reviewers. The Journal reserves the right to decline an article should the author refuse to adhere to the suggestions of reviewers.

The Journal of Cape Verdean Studies reserves the right to make formal alterations in the final text to be presented.

Articles should be submitted exclusively through our submission portal.

Submitted articles should have no identifying information of the author; Author data should be restricted to appropriate spaces in the submission process.

The text should not be greater than 35 pages, 1.5 spacing and a lead page containing: 1) The title of the article; 2) a 10 to 15 line abstract; 3) a listing of key words.

References should adhere to the following rules: (Author last name, date, page number).

Notes should be placed at the end of the text and numbered sequentially.

Bibliographic references should be placed at the end of the article and should follow APA guidelines.

Submission Preparation Checklist

As part of the submission process, authors are required to check off their submission's compliance with all of the following items, and submissions may be returned to authors that do not adhere to these guidelines.

The work is original and not under review in any other journal.

The submission archive is in word format, OpenOffice or RTF.

URLs for references are provided whenever possible.

The text spacing is 1.5; utilizing 12 font and italics rather than underlining (except in the case of URL); figures and charts are inserted in the text rather than at the end as attachments.

The text follows the stylistic patterns and bibliographic requirements described in the author guidelines on the journal page.
Copyright Notice

Authors publishing in the journal agree to the following terms:

Authors maintain copyright but concede to the journal the right of first publication. Publication in other spaces is permitted only six months following publication in the Journal of Cape Verdean Studies, so long as author recognizes the initial publication in the journal.

Authors have the authority and are encouraged to publish and distribute their work online (institutional repositories, or individual web pages) at any time prior to or during the editorial process.

Privacy Statement

The names and addresses associated with the journal will be used exclusively for services rendered under this publication and will not be released for other ends or third parties.